INDUSTRY

The Economic Development Investment Portfolio for Growth –Lifeline Mitigation Program (IPG-MIT) encourages all entities from the private sector to present projects with a focus on mitigating hazardous risks related to disasters and manmade emergencies. It also recognizes that industries supporting communications, maritime and air transportation, and solid waste management lifelines are mostly operated by the private sector.

SELECTION PROCESS

Eligible entities interested in participating may submit their projects for consideration and evaluation to PRDOH. Projects will be evaluated on their eligibility in accordance with the CDBG-MIT requirements, the range of benefits to the community and National Objectives, the stage of development, alignment with Program priorities, and how they address identified risk mitigation needs, among other aspects. Each project will receive a score based on its evaluation, and projects with higher scores will have a greater chance of being selected for funding.
